CONNECTIONS

Nicole Powell and Kara Lawson were teammates in Sacramento from 2005-2009, where they were coached by current Liberty head coach John Whisenant...Kalana Greene was drafted by the Liberty with the 13th overall pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft and was traded to the Sun during the 2011 WNBA Draft on April 11th for Sydney Colson...Kara Braxton, Liberty assistant coach Lady Grooms and Sun assistant coach Bernadette Mattox all attended the University of Georgia.

NOTEWORTHY

LAWSON LIGHTS IT UP

Veteran guard Kara Lawson came out firing in the preseason, making 12 of 23 field goals, including a team high five threes while averaging 13.7 points per game in the preseason. She led the team in scoring, assists and made threes. Lawson had 19 points in 22 minutes against the Lynx on May 10th, making 3 of 4 from three-point range.

TURN BACK THE CLOCK

Sun veteran Asjha Jones – 17 of 26 (.654) from the field in the preseason – seems to be getting better with each passing year. The 31-year-old forward set single-season personal records for total rebounds (217), defensive rebounds (153) and double-doubles (7). She is within 409 points of 4,000 for her career, which began with two seasons in Washington, and she is closing in on the top spot in some career franchise categories. She needs 27 games to move past Taj McWilliams-Franklin (243) into second place all-time in games played, and 380 points to pass McWilliams-Franklin (3,019) in points scored. Jones is tops in both categories with 278 games and 3,955 points.

HISTORIC START

As Tina Charles begins her third season in the WNBA, now might be a good time to put her first two seasons in perspective: Consider these statistics:

- The fastest player in league history to reach 400, 500, 600 and 700 career rebounds, Charles needs 28 in her first three games to reach 800 ahead of Yolanda Griffith, who did it in 72 games. Griffith also set the mark for fastest to 900 (83 games) and 1,000 (92 games) rebounds.
- Charles has the two highest single-season totals for double-doubles (22 in 2010, 23 in 2011) in WNBA history. Her 45 double-doubles in 68 career games leaves her five short of the franchise record (50 by Taj McWilliams-Franklin in 241 games). The record for fastest player to 50 career double-doubles is held by Natalie Williams, who did it in 91 games.
- Charles has the two highest single-season rebounding totals in league history (398 in 2010 and 374 in 2011). Prior to Charles, the record was 363 by Cheryl Ford.
- Charles already has two 20-20 games, joining Chamique Holdsclaw as the only WNBA player ever to record more than one. No player has ever had three 20-20 games.

MAKING THE CUT

Rookie center Chay Shegog survived the final cut earlier this week, earning a spot on the team after a solid preseason in which she made 5 of 11 shots from the field while also collecting 13 rebounds in 57 minutes. Selected with the 21st overall pick in the WNBA Draft back on April 16th, the 6-foot-5 center gives the Sun a solid backup to Tina Charles. Veteran Sidney Spencer and free agent rookie Dawn Evans were the final two players cut from the squad.

OFFENSIVE DISPLAYS

Although it is always difficult to gauge results in the preseason, Connecticut showed indications it has the potential to rack up points this season. The Sun averaged 81.7 points in three preseason games without playing Tina Charles, who was rested. The Sun averaged just over 30 made field goals and 81.7 points per game, shooting .446 from the field. Nine players are back from the Sun team that ranked fourth in scoring average at 80.1 points per game in 2011.

STEALING POSSESSIONS

When veteran forward Mistie Mims was signed back in February, it was expected she would make an impact as an offensive rebounder, keeping possessions alive. The 6-3 forward has shown that ability throughout her career, and she finished with a team-high seven offensive rebounds during the preseason. Mims' versatility gives the Sun a complementary post player who can share the floor with both Tina Charles or Asjha Jones.

PLAYING TO HER STRENGTH

During this past offseason, third-year forward Kelsey Griffin committed to adding muscle without necessarily bulking up. The plan was to get stronger without losing foot speed. The results were evident in the preseason as Griffin led the team with 16 rebounds while also collecting a team-high 10 steals. Griffin has repeatedly stepped into passing lanes on the perimeter, either deflecting or stealing balls from the opposition.

GETTING DEFENSIVE

While the Sun has scored well, it allowed teams to shoot a scorching .470 while averaging 83.7 points per game during the preseason. Through the first three quarters of the preseason finale at Washington on Monday, the Mystics were 26 of 53 (49 percent) from the field. Washington went on to an 83-64 victory. Of course, the Sun did not play Tina Charles, and Tan White missed the last two games of the preseason with a concussion.

HIGHTOWER SEES THE FLOOR

After missing the first game of the preseason, third-year guard Allison Hightower finished strong, averaging 10.5 points with five made threes on eight attempts. Hightower's ball-handling skills and her ability to defend are expected to make her a key contributor in the backcourt this season.

GROWING UP TOGETHER

During the 2010 WNBA Draft, the Sun selected Tina Charles with the top pick, Kelsey Griffin at No. 3, Danielle McCray at No. 7 and Allison Hightower at No. 15. That draft was part of a re-tooling that included the signing of free agent veteran Kara Lawson and the acquisition of second-year guard Renee Montgomery from Minnesota in a trade that sent Lindsay Whalen and the No. 2 overall pick in the draft to the Lynx for the pick that garnered Charles. Lawson, Montgomery and the members of the 2010 Sun draft are beginning their third year together. Since 2010, this group has combined with Tan White and Asjha Jones to form the core of the Sun.

ROUGH AND TUMBLE

Sun guard Tan White was knocked out of the preseason opener on May 7th after banging her head during a collision with a New York player in the 96-81 victory over the Liberty at Mohegan Sun Arena. She is being evaluated by doctors and is not expected to play tonight. Former Sun forward DeMya Walker, now with the Liberty, was also forced to leave the game after suffering a head and neck injury in a collision with Sun rookie Dawn Evans.

SCHOOL OF THOUGHT

Sun center Tina Charles is standing tall in places other than the basketball court these days. During the offseason, Charles made a donation of $32,000 to OmniPeace. That sum covered the entire cost for a new school in Mali, Africa. The actual construction was done by Connecticut-based buildOn. The school, which features three class rooms that can support up to 150 elementary school children, is located in the village of Ganale.

SPEAKING HER PIECE

Point guard Renee Montgomery is a National Spokesperson and “Guardian of Dreams” for the Pajama Program. In her role, Montgomery will work on national initiatives designed to help children in unsettled and vulnerable circumstances feel safe. The program delivers warm sleepwear and nurturing books to children in need.

LONG ODDS

One of the better preseason stories around the WNBA this May was former James Madison star Dawn Evans' attempt to make the Sun roster. Diagnosed with Focal Segmental Glomerulosclerosis (FSGS), an incurable kidney disease, Evans was a long-shot who was the second to last player cut. If the WNBA still had 13-player rosters, she would have almost certainly made the team.

ONE TO WATCH

Second-year guard Danielle McCray is expected to be a key contributor in her second season playing for the Sun. Last year, the Sun were 7-0 when she scored in double figures.

REMEMBERING THE PAST

As part of a season-long celebration of its 10th anniversary, the Connecticut Sun is asking fans to help pick an All-Decade team. Any of the 55 players who have competed in a regular season game for the Connecticut Sun since the team relocated from Orlando prior to the 2003 season is eligible to be chosen. Fans can visit www.wnba.com/sun/alldecade.html, where they will be asked to select the 10 players they feel have made the biggest impact on the Connecticut Sun since 2003. Voting will close on August 31st. On September 7th, during the home game against the Phoenix Mercury, the first two members of the All Decade team will be revealed. Three more players will be named during the September 9th home game against the Chicago Sky. The top five players on the All Decade team will be revealed on September 19th during the game against Indiana.

BACK TO SCHOOL

The Connecticut Sun recently announced it will donate $20,000 over the next two years to Goodwin College, establishing the Connecticut Sun Foundation Scholarship to support adult students returning to school to complete a degree. The donation will support a total of eight deserving adult students with awards of $2,500 each for the next two years. The median age for Goodwin College students is 28 years old. The College specializes in offering educational opportunities to non-traditional students with flexible programming that makes it convenient for working adults to attend classes.
